RECOMMENDATION

STATUS

1. SecDef take appropriate action to bring military intelligence organizations within D into full consonance with the concept of Defense Reorganization Act of 1958. Toward is end,

a. Establish a focal point for management and coordination of DOD foreign intelligence activities.

The establishment of the Defense Intelligence Agency implemented this recommendation.

Completed. ✓

b. Strengthen the authority of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in intelligence coordination and operations by:

(1) Assigning increased intelligence sources.

Making DIA the principal substantive intelligence advisor to JCS increased the intelligence resources available to JCS in Washington. Measures are being implemented, as directed by SecDef, to strengthen intelligence authority and capability of U and S commands, to which support and guidance in intelligence matters is being furnished by DIA as the primary JCS agent.

Continuing.

(2) JCS coordinate substantive intelligence, notably estimates.

The DIA Estimates Office performs this function.

Completed. ✓

(3) JCS coordinate military intelligence requirements.

DIA Requirements Office performs this function.

Completed. ✓

(4) JCS coordinate activities of unified and specified commands and serve as primary channel for guidance and direction in intelligence matters originating within D

DIA is the principal agent of the JCS for providing intelligence collection requirements and guidance to the U and S commanders. The latter have prepared draft plans and policies to further strengthen their intelligence capabilities. These are under study by the Joint Staff and DIA.

Continuing.

| c. Revise NSCIDs and DOD and JCS directives in accordance with above. | Pertinent NSCIDs were amended to reflect SecDef rather than individual military departments as responsible for intelligence functions. Action to amend, supplement and supercede DOD, JCS and military departmental directives continues. | Continuing. |
| 2. Draw increased resources required by JCS unified commands from existing resources of military departments and component commands. | Personnel assigned to DIA are drawn chiefly from the service intelligence agencies in Washington. Unified commanders have identified resources required to be transferred from component commands to support functions so transferred. | Continuing. |
| 3. User control of budgeting procedures SecDef. | DIA regularly reviews its areas of responsibility in the DOD program system. Revisions of definitions and procedures for preparation of future programs are being developed and applied. DIA and OASD (Comp) are developing plans and procedures for a DOD combined intelligence budget. | Continuing. |
| 4. Policies for more rigorous selection and training of attache and other intelligence personnel. | The Defense Intelligence School, under DIA direction, will provide post-graduate-level intelligence training and more intensive attache training. Planning and preparations are under way. The intelligence career development program (see 12 below) will facilitate more rigorous selection of personnel. | Continuing. |
| 5. Encourage military services to maintain and develop clandestine collection capability for DCI coordination. | DIA, with service support, is developing plan to implement SecDef directive assigning to DIA responsibility for the conduct of clandestine collection activities. Plan will be submitted through JCS to SecDef in July 1962. | Continuing. |
| 6. Improve SSO system. | As a first step toward optimum economy and maximum efficiency, DIA SSO assumed responsibility for support of OSD and JCS. Further studies of the SSO system are in progress. | Continuing. |
